SUPERVISORS TALK EXPOSITION PLANS

MEETING ATTENDED BY MANY PROMINENT CITIZENS IN THE INTEREST OF PROGRESS.

System is Planned Which Will Give the County Best Public Highways in State.

The Board of Supervisors met in adjourned session Monday at 10 o'clock, all of the members being present.

The chairman stated that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss matters pertaining to the Panama-Pacific Exposition and to arrange a day for an inspection of the exposition site by the board and the county exposition commissions.

There were present of the latter James McCormick of Pescadero, Dr. C. L. Morgan of Halfmoon Bay and A. G. C. Hahn of Menlo Park.

Dr. Morgan addressed the board, asking that the county representatives in the legislature be urged to vote for an appropriation for a State building at the exposition which would be equipped so as to afford each county an opportunity to exhibit its resources. This action was recommended at a meeting of the exposition commissioners, at which forty-two counties were represented, in San Francisco last week.

Mr. Hahn also spoke in favor of the undertaking.

A resolution will be presented at a later meeting recommending the action advocated by the exposition commissions.

It was ordered on motion of Brown, seconded by Casey that the the board and the exposition commission meet at the exposition building in San Francisco next Tuesday, the 31st instant, to inspect the exposition site.

The board then took up the road report of Advisory Engineer Morton, presented at the last meeting. The report which was presented in detail gave close attention to the roads of each section as they were taken up by the good roads enthusiasts present, among whom were the Board of Supervisors, L. P. Behrens, E. E. Skinner, E. E. Cunningham, D. P. Fullerton, H. C. Tuchsen and Dr. C. L. Morgan of the executive committee as well as C. M. Morse, A. G. C. Hahn, M. B. Johnson, Ellis C. Johnson, Jas. McCormick Sr.; Henry Geilfuss R. S. Thornton and other citizens. It being impossible to complete the work necessary before making recommendations as to the report, the executive committee will continue their work at San Mateo on Friday afternoon with the purpose of presenting written recommendations as to the report to the Board of Supervisors at their meeting to be held next Monday.

"All of the roads which are worthy of consideration and which are main traveled highways have been taken up in this report," said Engineer Morton in his presentation of the same at the conference. "These roads and the state highway which is now being built will give this county the best system of highways in the state. There will be no county to compare with it in the permanent character of construction used," he continued.

At South San Francisco, Judge E. E. Cunningham argued for the use of a route through that town that would be 150 feet west of the route selected by the engineer, claiming that its adoption would result in the saving of construction expense which would be caused by the necessity of lowering water pipes. He also recommended the adoption of a new location into San Bruno from South San Francisco on account of the difficulties that might be encountered in securing the rights of way along the route chosen by Engineer Morton. In the second district, Supervisor Brown and C. M. Morse argued for the use of asphalt surfacing on the San Mateo-Crystal Springs Road where the grades are slight.

The Third, Fourth and Fifth townships and their roads were taken up in order and the main suggestions and objections from these districts were heard. A disposition was shown to adopt the policy of give and take, representatives present expressing themselves as being willing to forego improvements in order that districts somewhat more in need of them might have the same. It will also evidently be the order of the day to cut down any expense which may seem superfluous while still maintaining the general standard character of the roads built. A feasible and effective plan upon which to found and fight for the bond issue is expected to be evolved within the next few weeks which will result in the county being placed in an actual position to gain immediate benefit from the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition and the attendant throngs at that event.

LAWRENCE KELLY DEAD AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Lawrence Kelly, a resident of the county for more than half a century, passed away in this city Saturday after a brief illness. Mr. Kelly was well known to the older inhabitants of the community. For fifty years he lived on his farm on the mountain west of Portola. He was a good citizen, industrious and hard working, and honest and fair to his fellow men. He was respected by a host of friends. A year ago he sold his property and came to this city to spend his remaining years in rest and comfort.

During the week he was taken ill and was removed to Mrs. Hulings' sanitarium, suffering from pneumonia and heart disease. He died during the early evening Saturday.

The deceased was interred at Menlo Park Monday, his body first being taken to the Catholic church where requiem services were held.

Mr. Kelly was a native of Ireland, aged 83 years. He never married and leaves no relatives in this country. A number of his kin are living in the old country.

HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON: SANTA CLAUS WAS BUSY.

The entertainment given by the Mount Carmel Aid Society at the Alhambra Friday night was enjoyed by an immense attendance. A highclass program rendered by the convent children showed the splendid training facilities of that school. At the close of the program Santa Claus appeared and the gifts that burdened an immense tree, brilliantly lighted, were distributed to the throng of expectant and delighted children. None were overlooked and it is needless to add that all were intensely happy. In conclusion the hall was cleared and an hour devoted to dancing.

Monday evening the Congregational church was packed to the doors, all eagerly waiting for Santa Claus. About 8 o'clock he appeared as bright and cheerful as ever The children were happy as he gave many presents to those of the Sunday school and to some who had been enthusiastic workers in years gone by.

The children of St. Peter's Episcopal church will have a Christmas tree at the guild hall Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be exercises by the children and Santa Claus will be present. The public is invited.

The children of the Methodist Sunday school were treated to a Christmas tree Tuesday night. There was a program by the little folks and Santa Claus was there to make them happy with presents. It was an enjoyable event for old and young.

Charter Day at the Club.

Charter members' day brought a most pleasing reunion of old members of the Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. H. C. Finkler and Mrs. Frank Wentworth were the hostesses. An enjoyable program was given, consisting of reminiscences of the earlier meetings and entertainments of the club, being well given by Mrs. Lila M. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. J. H. Nash. Mrs. James Eva gave two interesting recitations and musical numbers were furnished by Mrs. Frank P. Wentworth and Mr. Charles Landscheit, each singing several solos. Miss Clare Dodge and Miss Emily Hess were the accompanists. Light refreshments closed the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert U. W. Tallman of New York are the guests of Mrs. Tallman's brother, R. W. Mantz. Mr. Tallman is an importer of crude rubber, with offices on Broad street. Their home is on Staten Island.

Miss Pauline Einstein, who is a student at Hopkins Art Institute, is home for the holidays.

GAME ENTHUSIASTS STUDDY NEW LAWS

OBJECT IS TO AFFORD MORE PROTECTION TO THE DENIZENS OF THE FOREST.

At the meeting of the local game protective association Friday night the members got down to business. Reports were received from the committees on county game and the following recommendations were made:

That the open deer season be from August 1st to September 30th, one month earlier than at present. It was recommended that one dog to each hunter be permitted in hunting deer, and that it be made a misdemeanor to permit dogs to run the animals during the closed season.

It was recommended that the rail season be closed indefinitely; that the open duck season be from October 1st to February 15th; the quail season from November 1st to February 15th, fifteen days shorter than at present, and that shore birds, including curlew, snipe, plover, etc., have the same open season as duck.

A recommendation was also offered that the legislature provide a license for both hunting and fishing and that the age limit in issuing licenses be 14 years. It will also be asked that the State fix definite hours during the day for shooting.

An important recommendation is that the State establish game preserves for breeding purposes.

A State convention will be held at Santa Cruz next Saturday to which Guy P. Hull, Henry Beeger and Franklin Swart were appointed as delegates and to present the foregoing recommendations, which are to apply to this county and the other counties comprising District No. 5.

An important undertaking by the local sportsmen will be the extinction of predatory birds and animals, a list of which has been prepared by President Chase Littlejohn. Among the birds marked is the sharp shanked hawk, each one of which is known to destroy about 1000 quail and other birds in a year.

The predatory birds and animals are to be grouped according to their destructiveness, and when killed are to count so many points in comparison. The plan of the members is to form two sections and the one making the best showing in the destruction of the offensive birds and animals within a given time will receive a dinner from the losing side.

As an incentive to the winners of the organization certain people interested in protecting the birds and game of the county have offered special prizes to be distributed by the special committee in charge. Hull Bros. of this city have offered a first-class shotgun. Some of the clubs of the county have offered substantial cash prizes.

HIGHSCHOOL STUDENTS HOLD HOLIDAY EVENT

A merry beginning of the Christmas festivities was given in the assembly hall of the highschool on Saturday night. The sophomore class were the hosts and most cleverly had they planned the details of the happy affair. The hall was gay in holiday decorations and an excellent program was given. Two short well-staged farces gave an added interest to the program. The jolliest part of the evening followed, when gifts were distributed from a large, beautifully lighted tree. These were all of a fun making nature and selected with a careful thought of each student's hobby. Refreshments, consisting of pies, coffee and sweets, all made by the girls of the domestic science class were served.

The human being who hasn't a tear in his heart for another's woe, is undeserving of human sympathy in his own extremity.

He who lives meanly will naturally think meanly; and act meanly; and meanness of any kind is unworthy of a noble soul.

A soft, low word, in kindness spoken—a radiant face beaming with love and sympathy—are dews from heaven, distilling sweet hope and courage to weary, ladened hearts.

The year just about to close has been one of the very best we have ever had, so it it with a heart full of joy and happiness that we wish you a Happy New Year.

We haven't added materially to our store of this world's goods during the last twelve months but we have added a few good friends to the ones we had before and we close our year's accounts with the feeling that we have not injured the character or good name of any one and we know that we have boosted wherever a boos' was possible. Happy New Year.

TURNING A NEW LEAF.

Before another issue of the Times-Gazette reaches its readers we shall have passed one more milestone in the onward march of time. The old year, with its record of good or ill, will have passed; the accounts will have been closed, and to it we can "nothing add, nothing take from." It is perhaps well, though, that we should pause for a moment and review the record; not so much that there is glory in its accomplishment, but rather, that we may take heed of its lessons for the future.

For the year that is closing we have but little regret. As a community, we have been fairly prosperous; we have been blessed with a reasonable share of good things. We have not been visited with serious calamity; nor have our people been deprived of the means of obtaining the ordinary comforts of life to which theyw have been accustomed. The man of capital has been awarded a reasonable return for his invesmtents, while the artisan has generally found employment at a satisfactory wage.

But, does hte record show that he have achieved the best that is in us; have we, in a material sense, progressed as rapidly as we should. Have we accomplished for our city and her people all that our environments and opportunities should have warranted. Have we made the progress that the opening of the year which has so nearly passed promised—or rather which at the time we promised for ourselves.

If we have fallen short of our ambitions—and that we have can scarcely be denied—the fault is within ourselves. Nor is it difficult to find. It is simply and solely that we have been remiss in our duty to ourselves, that we have failed in that unanimity of effort which should actuate every progressive community.

Let us, then, take heed of the past. Let us resolve—and with a determination that the resolution shall be kept—that in the year about to dawn there shall be a more marked showing of progress along material lines. Let the man of money and the man of brawn—for each is equally dependent upon the other—unite in the effort to take advantage of the opportunities with which nature has endowed us. Let us subordinate our private desires and ambitions to the public good and combine in the furtherance of every public enterprise. Le us not only be ready to open the door to opportunity when she knocks, but stand on the highway ready to welcome the coming guest. Let us encourage every suggestion fo rthe advancement of public enterprise, rather than question the motive of the individual. In other words, "let's boost, not knock."

Henry Marcus states that this Christmas was the busiest and most prosperous of any he has ever experienced during the eight years he has been in business in Redwood City.

COUNTY POLICE PROTECTION PROVES EXPENSIVE LUXURY

Cost of Running Sheriff's Office Far Exceeds Its Earnings.

Whatever may be the result of the grand jury investigation directed by Judge Buck into the accounts of the sheriff's office it seems evident that the board of supervisors, in the interest of public economy, should devise some less expensive system of conducting the work of that office. That in the past the office has been a rather expensive luxury to the people of the c ounty is shown by a comparison of the receipts from fees and fines collected and turned over to the treasuer with the expense bill collected from the county by the sheriff for the conduct of his office, as shown by the official statement of the sheriff filed with the county clerk for the month of August, one of the reports to which the attention of the grand jurors was especially called by Judge Buck. A slight analysis of this report, which is appended in full from the original record shows that while the receipts of the office were but $103.10, the expenses amounted to $595.15. This latter amount, added to the monthly salary of $375 gives a total cost of $975.15 or an expense to the tax payers of $867.05. As a matter of information the report is well worth perusing.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo—Gentlemen: I herewith submit my report for the month of August, 1912:

SOME POINTED FACTS FOR LOVERS OF OUR GAME BIRDS

The following letter to the sportsmen of the county from the San Mateo county branch of the Fish and Game Protective Association oultines the preliminary work of the newly organized body:

To the Sportsmen of San Mateo county, Gentlemen: Since the organization of the San Mateo county branch of the Great Fish and Game Protective Association, there has developed in San Mateo county a general interest in the protection of fish and game of the county. To this end it has been suggested that there be made an organized effort to rid the county of the predatory animals and birds. The organization owes everything to the experience and knowledge of these matters of its president, Mr. Chase Littlejohn, who, in referring to but one of the predatory birds states that a single sharp shanked hawk destroys 1000 quail per year. All know the destructiveness of the coyote, wild cats and other animals.

Experience show that a bounty system is not practical. A plan has therefore been devised by a special committee of the organization for the destruction of the birds and animals that prey upon our game. By this plan the members of the organization will be divided into two sides. A list of the predatory animals and birds has been prepared by Mr. Littlejohn. Each will count so many points, and the side gaining the largest number of points by producing scalps of these animals or birds will be declared the winner, and the losing side will have the opportunity of providing the best dinner to be had for the winners.

As a special incentive to the winners of the organization, certain people interested in protecting the birds and game of the county, have offered special prizes to be distributed by the special vcommittee in charge. Hull Bros of Redwood City have offered a first-class shotgun. Some of the clubs of the county have offered substantial cash prizes. These have been prompted largely by the fact that gorund squirrels and gophers are to be included in the list.

This letter is published rather generally to the public so that all may have an opportunity to take a part in this plan. Any clubs, organizations or persons interested in offering prizes in this contest can communicate with the office of the district attorney, or with Mr. Littlejohn direct in Redwood City. The time of the contest and details of the plan will be made public as soon as fully determined upon.

Yours very truly,
FRANKLIN SWART,
Of committee on predatory animals and birds.

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS

Are Being Cured by Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a month? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for three months.

Mrs. Maria Primrose, of 87 Newell Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough, which kept me awake nights for fully three months, and felt tired all the time because my rest was broken so much. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest, and I feel much stronger in every way."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements, cods' livers, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

Attorney Jas. T. O'Keefe of Redwood City was in town Tuesday trying a case in the justice court.

The mass meeting called by the fire commissioners at the fire house for Thursday evening of last week was attended by but few of our residents. A cold building on a cold night seems not to be tempting enough to induce people to leave their own firesides. At least that was the excuse given by many who in the past have been active participants at meetings held in the same hall. So committees, or those calling meetings in the future, should take the hint while these cold nights last and provide wood to warm the room. The meeting was called to order by J. J. Maloney, who read from a prepared statement a list of requirements necessary for fighting fires which in the judgment of the board would ba adequate for all occasions. The plan submitted was to purchase two more chemical engines, three lots, material for two more engine houses and other accessories, and in addition the release of a mortage against the present property under the control of the volunteer department. The cost of all this was estimated at $5,000, to raise which amount a tax of 50 cents on each $100 valuation would be submitted to the voters at an early date. The plan did not meet with the approval of those present, and after considerable discussion the board promised to procure data on suggestions brought out and to submit the same at the next meeting.

The residents of the Fifth Addition have organized an improvement Club and have rented a house on the tract sutiable for their purpose. A stove and comfortable chairs contribute largely these cold nights to the work of evolving plans for the betterment of the locality. The opening of a street is now under consideration and the plan will soon be presented to the proper authorities for final consideration. Nicholas Powers, the sage of the fifth addition, wields the gravel with grace and dignity and without the Joe Cannon parliamentary rules. He says Cushing is good enough and all will have a respectful hearing. J. J. Heame indites the motions and other business. The club meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

J. F. Cook, who formerly conducted a second-hand furniture store in Belle Air Park, is now located on Grant avenue, South San Francisco.

Carl Jackson of Belle Air Park, who has been engaged during the past summer in the contracting business at Klamath Falls, Oregon, arrived in San Bruno last Friday to look after his business interest here. After the holidays he will leave for his old home at Cleveland, Ohio, where he will remain until spring visiting with his sons and daughers.

The mail messenger was serieosly thinkingof getting an auto truck to handle the vast amount of mail coming to the post office during Christmas week. The exchange was equally heavey and every one connected with the office had a strenuous week.

Many visitors spent Christmas day in San Bruno. They were attracted to this locality by the birdmen flying at the park. Many will come again with a view to closely looking into inducements for home building.

Emil Giherant of Belle Air has completed the construction of a garage which is a credit to his artistic ability as well as the designing of modern requirements necessary for comfort and easy access. Mr. and Mrs. Giheraut do not believe in sitting on the fence and seeing the other fellow go by and enjoy the state highway good raods, but will join the merry crowed with one of the latest improved cars which has been ordered for future delivery.

GHOST OF PIONEER PLAYS SANTA CLAUS

Long Buried Treasure Trove a Christmas Time Present to Old Woodside Resident

The San Francisco Call of Thursday contains an article which is of interest to the people of this community and the Woodside section. The article recalls the life and career of the late Nathan Comstock, who was well known in the county 20 years ago and who lived the life of a recluse on the summit near King's mountain. It is reparted that he had a love affair in his young years in his boyhood home in Rhode Island, and being jilted by his sweetheart left for the west and came to King's mountain to forget the past amid the tall trees and lonesome nooks of the mountain fastness. Comstock was born in Rhode Island and died on November 13, 1894, being 85 years old at the time of his death. He accummulated a fortune. A portion of his holdings was recently purchased by D. Bromfield of San Mateo who has subdivided the property. The Call's story is as follows:

"Stalking forth into the Christmas world like the spirit of a beneficent Scrooge, the ghost of old Nathan Comstock, an eccentric pioneer of the mountain village of Woodside, who died 16 years ago, came out of its grave today, bringing to a resident of this p lace a Yuletide gift that makes one of the prettiest stories of the holiday season.

"Perhaps you do not believe in ghosts and spirits, but every reader of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" believes, and so does Steve Perkins, a wood chopper and mountaineer in the Alpine district, near here. And in proof that ghosts exist in this workaday world he spent Christmas showing his friends $500 in gold eagles and double eagles—none of the coins of more recent date than the middle nineties.

Perkins is 50 years old today, but that is only a small part of this Christmas yarn. It happens that he has spent most of his life in this region and as a young man knew Nathan Comstock, as did all the countryside, more by reputation than otherwise. "Uncle Nathan," as he was called, lived alone up in the hills, a veritable recluse, and was reputed to be rich.

One day 20 years ago, in November, Perkins was walking home from work through the foerst when he came upon Comstock, then more than 90 years old, pinned beneath a fallen tree. He set to work and liberated him, whereupon the aged man thanked him profusely and promised to remember him in his will. Perkins laughed and thought no more about it.

He even did not know when "Uncle Nathan" died, about four years afterward, nor did he know that the kindly ghost of the old hermit was waiitng above the ground 16 years to do him a good turn. Such property as Comsotck left was distributed and forgotten long ago.

Tuesday afternoon, the day before Christmas, a yellow, age worn letter bearing a new stamp and a San Francisco postmark of December 24, 1912, reached Perkins' home. He opened it to find the following message, dated December 25, 1892, just 20 years ago:

Steve Perkins,

Dear Friend—From the westerly end of Frank King spring on the Grabtown road you will measure 25 feet toward the sun when it sets over Bald Mount. There dig into the ground and three feet from the surface you will find reward for your kind service to me.

Let me help you in your old age as you helped me.

NATHAN COMSTOCK

Witnessed by Dr. R. O. Tripp.

Woodside, San Mateo county, December 25, 1892.

The letter was in Comstock's handwriting, but the odd script was still legible. Perkins immediately recalled the slight service he had done for the dead man years ago anddecided to follow instructions. He took a buggy, drove to the exact spot on the lonely mountain road described in the note, and dug up for himself a rusty tin can filled with good gold coin—$500 in all.

Who mailed the letter Tuesday in San Francisco Perkins does not know. He thinks it must have been the ghost of Nathan Comstock."

H. P. Hutton, son of C. A. Hutton, the wealthy San Francisco grain merchant, ran into the fruit and vegetable wagon of John Lown with his auotmobile on Arguello street Thursday morning, damaging the vehicle and scattering fruit and vegetables all over the street. In the automobile with Hutton were his mother and Miss Rodigue of San Francisco and after the accident the party proceeded on its way towards San Jose without ascertaining the nature of the injury of the driver of the wagon, or offering any assistance. The party was apprehended at Palo Alto and brought back to this city. New Sewing Class at High School.

As Miss Truman will be relieved of her work in Algebra after the holidays, it will be possible for her to start a good strong class in sewing to meet daily from 2 to 3:45 p.m., except on Monday and Tuesday when she is employed teaching cooking to the eghth grade.

As such instruction has been given for only a year and a half in Redwood, it has been thought best to offer this chance to any girl 16 or more years old, whether or not a graduate of the grammar school.

We do not expect to be able to make such an offer every year, and hope the mothers, who have girls without a knowledge of this most useful art, will at once make application to the principal or to Miss Truman for their enrollment. We wish to enroll as many as ten or twelve girls and young women to make it worth while to give the teacher's time to this instruction, which will be made as practical as possible.

S. P. McCREA, Principal.

Ford Will Retire from Office.

John F. Ford, superintendent of the county farm for the past four years, has announced during the week that he will resign his office on January first. Mr. Ford has made a splendid superintendent, being well liked by the inmates and those having business with the institution. The hospital was well and economically managed under his regime and his accounts were kept in a systematic manner. When he goes the inmates will lose a good, kind friend.

Charles Hurlus, charged with the crime of rape committed on a fourteen year old girl at Easton on December 2, had his preliminary examination in Judge Lampkin's court yesterday. He was held over to appear before the Superior Court with his bond fixed in the sum of $1000. Hurlus is a chauffeur and works around San Mateo. The girl charges him with the crime but he says she is mistaken.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOYS SHOW MECHANICAL SKILL

The third semi-annual manual training exhibit under the direction of Principal Robert W. Mantz at the grammar school last Thursday was attended by large numbers of enthusiastic friends and patrons. It is now twelve school months since this work was introduced into the school and those who have kept in close touch with the work commended the increased skill of the Redwood City boys and girls.

Judge George H. Buck, who attended the exhibit for the first time expressed himself as amazed at the extent and quality of the work. He also voiced his hearty approval of what is being done at the school. Several prominent business men concurred in the Judge's opinion.

The oak table made by Bert Archibald for Superintendent Cloud was considered equal to that of an experienced cabinet maker. Mr. Steinberger's unique smoking taboret made by Alvin Brog was much admired.

The first attempt of the boys at metal work as shown on Mr. Swift's waste basket and the grand father's clock was very popular. Metal work will now be gradually introduced until it becomes a permanent part of the manual training work. This with several other additions that the principal has in mind will make the course as varied, useful and interesting as can be found anywhere.

The new manual training laboratory will be ready for occupancy when school reopens. The fourth grade boys will then begin wood work and there will then be over one hundred and twenty boys from the grammar school in the laboratory.
